TO AFFECT 1927 INCOMES

Senator Simmons Says Cor-

Washington.—The American people may confidently expect a reduction of taxes on the incomes earned during the calendar year 1927 and payable in March 1928 assuming that business conditions the next 18 months show no serious slump.

This is the consensus of opinion given the writer after interviewing Secretary Mellon, and Senators Smoot of Utah and Simmons of North Carolina, the Republican and Democratic leaders of the finance committee of the senate.

All three were agreed that business conditions alone could cause a change and that if things continued as they are today, the next tax cut could safely be made not later than March 1928.

Mr. Simmons felt that the tax reduction might possibly come sooner but this optimism was not reflected at the treasury department or by Senator Smoot. The North Carolina senator significantly pointed to the corporation taxes as being most likely to benefit in the next cut for he declared the corporations had had relatively little relief since the war.

Mr. Mellon feels that it is really too early to forecast just what rates can be revised and, he points out that a careful analysis is necessary of the next twelve months of tax receipts. While there will be a surplus of more than $300,000,000 in the fiscal year ending on the thirtieth of this month, he thinks and Senator Simmons is inclined to agree with him that there must be sharp pruning of expenditures in order to escape a deficit or to make sure of a slight surplus in the fiscal year ending in June 1927.

PROFIT TAKING OVER

Mr. Mellon feels that most of the profit taking has occurred and that while lower surtax rates may show even more productivity than the present rates there hardly will be the same increase in income as there has been in this the first year of reasonably low surtax rates.

"I know there has been discussion of a possible deficit in June 1927," said Senator Simmons to the writer, "and we cannot, of course, anticipate what business conditions will be in advance but I feel confident we will have a surplus just the same." We now have payments coming in from foreign governments and we have a sinking fund requirement so that by using both funds we will pay off our public debt in less than the 25 years that has been contemplated. Having given foreign countries 62 years in which to pay their debts to us, it would be outrageous if we in America continued to pay high taxes in order to pay off these debts in a shorter period. I don't think the country would stand for it. There will be a demand for tax reduction.

"I think the Republicans have always counted on a surplus but nothing like the surplus that has come in this year. And they have felt that they could recommend another tax reduction before the next presidential election."

"But the surplus this month may force them to act ahead of time. It might be difficult to take it up in the short session which begins next December and ends on March 4, 1927, so it seems more likely that the matter will come up in the congress which begins in December 1927. Thus the new law would take effect with the payments in March 1928 retroactive with the incomes of 1927."

SHOULD CUT EXCISE TAX

"I believe the next tax cut should remove all excise taxes. The corporations have been paying just as high a rate while other income rates have come down. They therefore require some consideration. If there is still a surplus after that we ought to make some reductions in the maximum brackets and proportionately all along the line."

TRUSTEES PUT O. K. ON DRIVE FOR HUGE FUND

More Than Million Dollars to Be Used for New Building

A fund of $3,000,000 to cover the costs of a "comprehensive program of construction and endowment" will be raised by Lawrence college in the near future. The effort to raise it will extend itself over a period of three years.

Decision to conduct the campaign was made by the college board of trustees at its annual business session Friday at the college offices, and was announced by the president of the board at its adjournment late in the afternoon.

The program of construction and endowment is one elaborated during the year by a special committee of fifteen members of the board of trustees, which has surveyed the situation and needs of the college, and which made recommendations to the board in a formal report presented Friday.

Approximately $1,225,000 of the sum will be used for the construction of new buildings, it is planned, and the balance will be used to enlarge the faculty and as added endowment. The new construction planned includes, first of all, a gymnasium, a new administrative building as a memorial to the late Dr. Samuel Elwell, a new conservatory of music, a new girls' dormitory, extensive remodeling of Main Hall, conversion of the present Alexander Gymnasium building into a chemistry department and remodeling of Stephenson hall of science to be used by the other science departments. In addition the chapel organ is to be enlarged, and a sum is to be set aside for the purchase of land as needed by the college.

An executive to take charge of the program is to be appointed shortly. The campaign will be the first organized one Lawrence college has made in many years.

All officers of the board of trustees were re-elected. They are: President, L. M. Alexander, Port Edwards; first vice president, G. W. Jones, Appleton; second vice president, W. H. Halton, New London; secretary, Dr. James S. Reeve, Appleton; treasurer, James A. Wood, Appleton.

Karl Mathie of Wausau, for several years a member of the Lawrence trustee board, was elected to the college executive committee for next year.

BRING 62 SUITS FOR INSURANCE

Want Policies Paid That Were

Marquette.—(P)—Sixty two law suits for $10,000 each have been started in Menominee circuit court by John J. O'Farra attorney for David E. Crawford of Marquette against 42 insurance companies which carried policies on the village of Cedar River, destroyed by fire on June 6, 1925.

The $620,000 aggregate is an arbitrary figure, the actual amount that Crawford is seeking to collect being approximately $137,000 the face value of his insurance policies carried on 34 buildings and contents destroyed in the Cedar River fire.

Deny Missing Evangelist Has Been Found In Canada

Edmonton, Alta.—(P)—Nobody resembling Mrs. Almee McPherson is staying at the Corona hotel here, it was stated there Saturday when dispatches from Los Angeles were received.

Miss Blanche Potter of Los Angeles has been at the hotel three weeks and James Gould of Los Angeles has been there a month.

Los Angeles, Calif.—(P)—A telegram received by the police here Saturday from Edmonton, Alta., Canada states that Almee Sorelle McPherson, missing evangelist has been located in that city by a private detective agency.

The message addressed to Police Chief James Davis and signed "Inspector Middleton, international detective" reads as follows:

"Almee Sorelle McPherson arrived here Friday via Calgary in car D-Cal 25-121, Studebaker followed by car D-Cal 24-356, Staying Corona hotel. Positively identified by three operators. McPherson known by sender while in Toronto. Wire instructions." The telegram was dispatched from Edmonton at 4 P. M. Friday.

The car bearing license number D-25-121 is registered in the name of Blanche Potter of Los Angeles police say while the other is registered to James H. Gould, also of this city.

Mrs. James H. Gould under whose name one of the cars reported at Edmonton was registered, said Saturday morning that she knew her husband had gone to Canada but refused to say when he left and when he would return. To the latter query she replied "he might be gone for a year."

Mrs. Gould said that neither she nor her husband belonged to Mrs. McPherson's congregation, but admitted that they attended services at the temple.

Mrs. McPherson, founder and pastor of Angelus temple, was first reported to the police as missing on May 18 last, by Miss Emma Schaeffer, her secretary, who accompanied her on a trip to Ocean park, near here, for an afternoon swim in the surf. Miss Schaeffer said she last saw the woman peering in the water.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy mother of the evangelist and members of her congregation accepted the theory that their pastor had drowned. A search in the sea for the body of the missing evangelist later was directed to and when reports that she had been seen alive since her disappearance began to come in from various cities along the Pacific coast from Santa Barbara to Seattle.

SON BATTLES WITH ROOMER AT HIS HOME

Magazine Salesman Held in Eau Claire Jail After Shooting

Eau Claire.—(P)—Mrs. Bertha McFadden, 48, widow here in a critical condition here Saturday with a bullet wound above the heart, and George W. Vest, 48, a roomer at the McFadden home, is held in the county jail without charge, pending the outcome of the woman's wound, as the result of a shooting affray at the McFadden home Friday afternoon.

Little hope is held for the recovery of Mrs. McFadden and police say Vest will be charged with first degree murder if she dies.

George McFadden, 20, the woman's son, narrowly escaped being shot when he rushed to his mother's assistance after hearing the shot fired in her bedroom. As he broke into the room, he told reporters, Vest turned and fired on him with a .38 calibre revolver, which was still smoking from the shot fired into Mrs. McFadden's body. He grappled with Vest, wrested the weapon from him and struggled in the house and finally out the door. After losing the gun, Vest seized a large stovepipe which he wielded in an attempt to break away from the youth. He struck young McFadden across the forehead, inflicting a gash about 2 inches long. The boy also was badly bruised about the arms and legs in the scuffle.

INDIAN PRINCE OFFERS $500,000 FOR COLT

London.—(P)—What the Daily Express describes as the most sensational offer in turf history for a single horse has been made at Epsom. Prince Aga Khan, the noted Indian sportsman is said to have offered Sir John Rutherford LX 100,000 (approximately $500,000) for his colt Solario which won the Coronation cup at Epsom Thursday and the Saint Leger last September.

Sir John, who is wealthy, refused to sell the animal. He bought Solario as a yearling for $3,500.

SON OPPOSES COURTSHIP

A nine months courtship of Mrs. McFadden by Vest which was beset with difficulties thrown in its path by young McFadden and his sister, now married and living in St. Paul, led to the shooting Friday, in the opinion of the McFadden boy. He told how Vest, an itinerant magazine salesman, had called at his mother's home about nine or ten months ago to solicit a subscription for the magazine. An acquaintance between Mrs. McFadden and Vest sprang up as the result of this call and shortly Vest came to the house to remain as a boarder. A month later he quit work and since that time has lived at the McFadden home, young McFadden said. A board bill of about $300 against Vest remains unpaid, he said. Vest threatened his mother with death about a month ago, young McFadden said, when it appeared to him that she was going to break her relationship with him. They had been engaged to marry, the boy said, and were planning to leave for the west next month to live.

MRS. WRIGHT IS ILL AT HOTEL

Must Postpone Fight to Force
Her Way into Her Husband's Home

Spring Green.—(P)—Unrelenting in her determination to continue as a nemesis of her estranged husband, Mrs. Wright, a Milwaukee woman, was forced by illness Saturday to postpone further action.

Rest was her sole desire Saturday as she confined herself to a room in the village hotel where she sought refuge Thursday night after two vain attempts to force her way into Taliesin, the country estate of her husband, Frank Lloyd Wright. Early Saturday she complained of heart attacks, expressing the belief she was dying, but Dr. Frank Nee could find no organic ailment. He attributed her trouble to the physical and mental ordeal of the past week.

"I want to rest now," she said Saturday, announcing she would remain here until Monday.

Mrs. Wright's present wants are carved for by the $125 brought to her Friday by a representative of Mr. Wright, who has agreed to support her but insists that she must not live at Taliesin.

Although Mrs. Wright changed her plans several times Friday night, deciding first not to go to Madison and then not to go to Chicago, she remains firm in her determination to give her husband no peace, and prevent him from living with Mme Olga Milanof Montenegro dancer who has managed Taliesin, and is sought on a warrant charging a statutory offense.

The only move made by Wright is the expressed opinion that it may be necessary for him to have Mrs. Wright examined for her sanity.

Milwaukee.—(P)—Clark M. Perry, former federal prohibition director for Wisconsin was sentenced to three years imprisonment and a fine of three thousand dollars in federal court here Friday. Perry had previously entered a plea of guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition amendment.

Perry appeared to be sentenced on his individual charge that he had conspired with others to remove a quantity of bonded liquor from warehouses at Plymouth several men were indicted and sent to prison in connection with the removal of the liquor.

INVOLVED IN CHILTON PLOT

Appearing in court he was confronted with another indictment charging irregularities in connection with the operations of the Calumet sales corporation, which operated the Chilton brewery. The indictment alleged that Perry, with Theodore Grabenstein of Milwaukee, conspired to violate the prohibition amendment in connection with the operations of the Chilton concern.

Grabenstein entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and was released on $5,000 bonds. Perry entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was sentenced on both pleas of guilty to conspiracy.

The indictment on which Perry was arraigned today charges that he conspired with Grabenstein, a Milwaukee brewer, to violate the prohibition laws, and for his part in the deal was to receive $4.00 for each barrel of real beer sold.

The government alleged that Perry was to call McCarthy at the brewery and tell him when it was safe to make real beer, also to tell him when federal agents were coming to inspect the brewery that everything might appear in good shape to them. The real beer was made between Sept. 1, 1923 and Nov. 15, 1924.

After pleading guilty to the charge through his attorney Perry said he had no statement to make. He was sentenced to serve two years on the first indictment and one year on the Chilton indictment, the terms not to run concurrently.

Modern Girl Is Growing More Boyish Every Year

The modern girl is boyish—there can be no doubt of that. And, according to experts, in the future she will become more and more so.

Shingled heads, slim, lithe figures, and athletic grace characterize the miss of today. The well rounded, girlish figure has gone out. Dr. Hrdlicka, noted anthropologist of the Smithsonian institution, predicts that coming years will not bring it back, and that the flapper of tomorrow will be more nearly of a man than ever before. Long, slender hands and feet will be among her possessions. She will be flat-chested, corsetless, healthy and physically stronger than the woman of the present.

Looking ahead, it is difficult to see just how the girls can be very much more boyish. Right now there is little a young man does that his sister does not also do. She plays golf and tennis, basketball and hockey, she swims, she motors, she bowls, she drinks and smokes a little, perhaps—in fact, she not only looks, but acts as much like a boy as any one but a boy could.

But there are a few masculine worlds still left for her to conquer. She has not yet taken up baseball to any extent. Perhaps in 1956 some slim miss will curve such a mean ball over the plate that she will be the hero—or heroine, rather—of that year's world series. She will undoubtedly invade the billiard hall, there to put nasty English on the spheres of what was once a man's game. Female traffic cops may stay us at the corners and ask us "wherthehel" we think we're going. Why, they may even take up such manish arts as washing the windows of our skyscrapers.

Imagine the consternation of man when they start using female mannequins and feminine wax models to show off the latest in men's clothing! Yet it seems perfectly possible. On the other hand, consider the joy of the male if things should go so far that conditions would be reversed, and the flapper would call upon her skirt of a summer evening, bearing in a manish hand a sweet bouquet.

NAVIGATION ON UPPER FOX MAY BE CONTINUED

Special Committee Believes River and Harbor Board Is Convinced

Members of a Wisconsin committee which recently appeared before the river and harbor board at Washington D. C. to try to prevent abandonment of the upper Fox River between Berlin and Portage by the United States government believe they not only have accomplished this aim, but have shown the feasibility of using the upper Fox as a connecting link between Green Bay and the Gulf of Mexico, according to Alvin H. Tapp, Oshkosh, chairman of the committee. The group also succeeded in getting federal engineers to repair the Portage lock in such an effective manner that flood dangers will be eliminated.

The committee showed that it would be easy to make the Wisconsin river navigable from Portage to Prairie du Chien by building five more waterpower dams in the river. The revenue from these dams would be over $1,000,000 a year. It was pointed out the dams can be constructed under the federal power act, by the federal government or under the state dam law. It is private companies with the consent of the federal road rate commission.

No act of congress is necessary to build the proposed water route as one was passed in 1875 and the federal government owns the entire reach of way from Green Bay to Prairie du Chien. The route is practically completed to within 40 miles of Portage on the upper Fox as far as the Montello dam. The committee asked fed-

The 500 Mile Speed Classic at Indianapolis has always been a Battle of Tires.

In 1911, Firestone won with fabric tires at 74.59 miles per hour. In 1920, Firestone won with cord tires at 88.55 miles per hour. In 1925, Firestone won with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons at the record breaking average speed of 101.13 miles per hour.

In 1926, Firestone again won this great Speed Classic with Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. The ten cars to finish "in the money" were all Firestone-equipped. These ten cars went the distance without a single blowout and with but two tire failures—one due to a puncture and the other to a leaky valve.

This performance is even more remarkable when you consider the terrific speeds at which the cars traveled over this fifteen-year-old, rough brick track.

Experienced race drivers will not trust their lives or risk their chances of victory on any other tires. And in the commercial field, large truck, motor-bus and taxicab fleet operators, who keep careful cost records on their tire mileage are among the big users of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

The City Transportation Co., of Tacoma, Washington, writes: "One of our 12 buses on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires has gone over 40,600 miles and still looks good for many miles of extra service. I have no hesitancy in saying that for all around tire safety and mileage, Firestone cannot be beat."

From the Calumet Motor Coach Company, Hammond, Indiana, comes the following: "We operate 40 buses all equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. The very low cost per mile on which these tires operate is considerably less than that of any other make." In writing to express their satisfaction, the Hayes Bus Lines, Columbia, S. C., say: "We operate 19 buses equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. A number of these tires have run over 45,000 miles without ever having been removed from the rim."

The largest taxicab companies in the world standardize on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. William R. Rothwell, a taxicab operator of Detroit, Mich., writes: "Two of my Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have run 76,000 miles."

Hundreds of thousands of car owners voluntarily testify to the safety, comfort and economy of Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. W. H. Peacock, Birmingham, Ala., enthusiastically writes: "I have had Firestone Balloons for thirteen months and they have delivered in that time 24,469 miles." H. C. Staehle, Minneapolis, Minn., says: "My Firestone Balloons have gone 49,900 miles and are still in good condition." W. H. Miller, Homestead, Pa., expresses his satisfaction this way: "Have driven my Gum-Dipped Balloons 30,000 miles and it is impossible to furnish better evidence of most miles per dollar."

These records of endurance, speed, safety and mileage could only have been made because of Firestone development of the Gum-Dipping process which insulates and saturates every fiber of every cord with rubber, reducing friction and heat and building greater strength and endurance in the cords—assuring you a

KOW-TOWING BY MODERN WIVES NOT IN LINE

BY CYNTHIA GREY

"What comfort can you offer a woman whose husband has blamed her for being the mother of two beautiful children?"

"My husband thinks of nothing but making money. When our son was born, he stormed because the child would be an obstacle to his worldly success. It was the same when our daughter came."

"He is always regretting his backward days, when there weren't any kids to bother with." He also says a woman should go out and earn a thousand dollars a year for a man, to pay him for having her around."

"I do work outside the home and earn good money, but he does not appreciate it."

"Do you think I can go on always in this way, starving for a man's love or will I give way under the strain, and perhaps fall for some other man who will give me what I crave?"

I hardly think you will "fall for any other man" if you have been loyal enough to stand for all this. A sub rosa love affair would only complicate your problems.

But you should certainly take some steps to better your present position.

This thing seems to be one of those knots which can be solved only by cutting straight through it. A man who has so belittled you must be

ATTRACTED BY BOOKLET

Read of Other Women Who Found Health

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Mrs. G. Hegmann of 35 Central Ave., was in a run-down condition and could not do her housework. She could not sleep at night. Her story is not an unusual one. Thousands of women find themselves in a similar condition at some time in their lives.

"I found your advertisement in my letter box," wrote Mrs. Hegmann, "and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got relief." Mrs. Hegmann also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation, with good results. She says, "I am recommending your medicines to all I know who have symptoms the same as mine, and to others whom I think it will help. You may use my statement as a testimonial, and I will answer any letters sent to me by women who would like information regarding your medicines."

There are women in your state—perhaps in your town—who have written letters similar to this one telling how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped them.

"Y" ARRANGES NEW SCHEDULE AT GYMNASIUM

Won't Hold Classes, but Plan
Regular Swimming Period
Every Day

With the close of school this week, a new gymnasium schedule has been arranged by the Y. M. C. A. for the summer, according to A. P. Jensen, physical director. No classes will be held but boys of the association will have a swim period every day in stead of only three times a week. The high school and younger boy swim periods will be at 4 o'clock in the afternoon while the employed boys will meet for their swims at 7:15 at night. The swims will be held every night except Saturday, Mr. Jensen said.

The men's gymnasium classes already are on their summer schedule, with volleyball occupying the entire period. However, the 5-15 classes have combined with the two groups meeting on the same three nights of the week rather than one on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and the other on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. This was done because of the fewer men in the city during the summer when some are here one week and others the next, making it hard to keep two classes running. The handball courts also will be open for the summer and are expected to be in use most of the time. A beginners swimming class and two for advanced swimmers will start next week and will last until June 19.

She fought her first case in August, 1923, when she defended a woman charged with murdering her two children. The woman was found insane and ordered to be detained during the King's pleasure.

STAGE AND SCREEN

FERT LOUISE BROOKS SENSATION OF SCREEN

Louise Brooks sensation of the screen.

That's the way they talk of W. C. Fields leading lady in "It's the Old Army Game," which arrives tomorrow at the Fischer's Appleton Theatre. Never has any one person—he male or she female—achieved movie success so quickly.

The critic of the New York World saw Louise in Adolph Menjou's "A Social Celebrity" and said "There is a girl in this picture by the name of Louise Brooks. Perhaps you've heard of her. If not don't worry. You will. I may have seen in my day a handsomer lady, since then do grow amazingly that way in Kansas but at the moment I can call forth no specific exhibit for evidence."

Miss Brooks, who was formerly a featured dancer in "Louise the 14th," first tried her luck on the screen in "The Street of Forgotten Men." Following that she was seen in "The American Venus" and opposite Adolph Menjou in "A Social Celebrity." "It's the Old Army Game," which was directed by Edward Sutherland, gives Louise the biggest chance she has yet had—and those who have seen the film say she has come through with a fine piece of acting.

Also the original Sunshine Kiddie of Hollywood and usual short film program.

"Her Second Chance" which is booked for next Monday Tuesday and Wednesday at the Elite theatre, with Anna Q. Nilsson in the leading feminine role is an adaptation of the famous novel by Mrs. Wilson Woodrow. As a novel "Her Second Chance" was for several seasons a best seller running into numerous editions and reaching a circulation of almost a million. Mrs. Woodrow is internationally famed and is a regular contributor to many magazines and newspapers.

The theme in "Her Second Chance" is that of a young, Kentucky mountain girl's desire for retribution of a southern judge who sent her to jail for a misdemeanor which she never committed with willful intent. Complications arise when this girl falls in love with the judge.

Huntley Gordon plays opposite Miss Nilsson with Charlie Murray in a comedy role. Lambert Hilder director and Eve Unsell made the adaptation. June Mathis exercised editorial direction.

"PIGS"

The average American family, with its comfortable "home" sitting room, its radio its neighborhood chatter and the natural, everyday peas that make up the home circle from Maine to California have been brought to the stage in "Pigs" the John Golden comedy classic which is to be presented with the original New York cast at the Appleton Theatre Wednesday June 9 against this delightfully human background the authors have etched the principal characters of their story, Thomas Atkins, Jr., and Mildred Cushing. A typical small town boy and girl, they are, in the throes of a feverish courtship which the world knows best as "puppy love." It is a story that will gladden the hearts of the booklovers and playgoers who were moved to enthusiasm by "Seventeen" and "Clarence" but the play is as red-blooded and heart-warming as "Lashin'" "The First Year" "Turn to the Right" "Thank-You" and other stage classics that have won a world wide following for John Golden. The original cast is headed by Wallace Ford, Nydia Westman, Maude Granger, May Buckley, George Henry Trader and Philip Barnison. Seats are now on sale.

GENUINE IS TRAIN WRECK

The difference between a freight train wreck prepared in a studio and a regulation railway freight train wreck is graphically shown in "Whispering Smith" a smashing dramatic Metropolitan production which will be on view at Fischer's Appleton theatre on Saturday next. As the wrecking of the freight train is one of the thrills in this production, Director George Melford arranged with the Union Pacific Railroad to advise him of any wreck that might happen while he was engaged in making the production.

One week passed and no word of a wreck, two weeks passed and the picture continued to find its way into the camera, three-four-five and Melford had almost given up hope of securing a real honest-to-goodness train wreck for his picture.

On the second day of the sixth week's filming and when the picture was nearing its finish, Director Melford was notified by the Union Pacific officials that they had a wreck at the edge of the Mojave desert. Cameraman, director, and players were rushed to the scene almost two hundred miles away and photographed.

It was the first time in motion picture production that such a thing had occurred and while the company and shippers suffered a loss of many thousands of dollars in merchandise nothing was salvaged.

H. E. Warner, Lilyan Tashman, John Bowers and Allan Rich are featured. In the cast also are Will Walling, Robert Edeson and others.

Added film features including Aeolus Fables, a two reel comedy and "News Reel" will be shown.

QUALITY RANKS FIRST WITH NEW FOX RANCHERS

New Kind of Opportunity Is Offered by Newly Organized Company

Appleton Silver Black Fox and Fur company is a closed corporation, the members of which are Henry Boldt and E. G. Timme of Appleton, Wis., and W. B. Hargraves of Watertown, Wis.
This company is affiliated with four of the leading Silver Black Fox ranches of quality in this state, and has no shares of stock for sale. All shares having been absorbed by members of the company. The company sells pairs of foxes direct to the public which they can arrange to be ranches for a nominal charge per pair annually on a modern up to date ranch which will be built on 24 acres of land especially adapted to this industry. This property is located on the banks of the Fox river near the east line of Appleton. The ranch will be in charge of a rancher who thoroughly understands every phase of the business. Interested parties who desire to invest in a pair or pairs of Silver Foxes, may board them on this ranch with every assurance they will receive the same care and consideration as those belonging to the company.
Persons purchasing foxes at this time may have them ranched free of charge until Sept. 1, 1926. Beginning with Sept. 1, the charges for ranching one pair of foxes for one year ending August 31, the following year, including all food, care and medical treatment is $150.00 no charge being made for the progeny except on a bonus of $10 for each puppy raised to maturity and in good health condition by the first of September following the birth of same.
This $10 bonus is a part of the rancher's salary which he receives only for those pups which he succeeds in raising to maturity and in healthy condition.
Few people realize to what an extent Silver Black Foxes are now being successfully raised in captivity and the profits that are possible in this fast growing industry.
The fur business is not one of recent origin, but can be traced back to the time of the first settlers when the Indians were very common. When the industry was in its infancy, Silver Foxes were occasionally caught by trappers in the far north and their furs shipped to London where they brought an exceptionally high price because of their attractiveness and rarity.
Beginning in 1857 when Charles Dalton and Robert Fulton conducted their first experiments and set up what is known as the first fox ranch he growth of this industry has been a steady climb today it occupies a strong position in the Animal Husbandry in the United States, and is attracting the attention of men and women who are looking forward to a future.
All down through history the Silver Fox pelt has always brought the highest price at the fur auctions. One Silver Fox skin was worth more to a trapper than all the rest of his winter catch. Even back in the days when wild life was plentiful, a real Silver Fox was a rarity. With the pearl and the diamond, the Silver Fox ranks as an emblem of wealth and luxury, of aristocracy and refinement. It is one of the few valuable furs that cannot be imitated by the dyer and furriers art.

The Silver Fox is the hardest animal in captivity, this is stated and has been proved by the United States government, and the fur from ranch raised Silver Foxes is superior to wild fur, because such foxes can be fed accordingly and their fur taken exactly when it is prime.
No industry, particularly in the line of Animal Husbandry, offers the large profits that the Silver Fox industry does. The risk of loss is now very small, and even this may be insured against. The average increase is from 100 per cent to 300 per cent. A female will frequently have as high as eight pups. A breeding animal has a lifetime of approximately eleven to twelve years at the end of which time the pelt is just as good as a new one. The breeding season is during January and February. The pups are fully matured by fall, and may then be pelted or mated.
Many people seem to think that Silver Foxes will soon become so plentiful that prices will fall to a level with the red. Such predictions were made as long ago as 1913 and have been made every year since. Yet the saturation point has not yet been reached. There are approximately one hundred and twenty-five million people in the United States and Canada, yet we do not meet one in a hundred or in a thousand wearing Silver Fox Furs. All these people are prospective many who at some time or other hope to own a genuine Silver Fox Fur. Statistics tell us that one in every hundred of the American people can afford a Silver Fox fur, and with this in mind there is then a demand of some million two hundred thousand pelts, which assures us that the market for pelts of fine quality is practically unlimited.
Every person should look to the future when his producing period is at a decline, by saving and investing his or her money investments in Silver Foxes offer money-making possibilities that many other investments cannot offer with the same security.

Need Courage And Moral Stamina To Win Success

Babson Park, Massachusetts — In view of recent failure statistics published by both Dun and Bradstreet, Roger W. Babson was interviewed relative to these figures. In connection with this interview, Mr. Babson makes some comments which should interest every business man. This is his statement:
"There has been some decline in business failures during the first four months of this year compared with the same period a year ago. While the actual number of failures has slightly increased the total liabilities have greatly decreased. This shows that the period of competition which we are now in is taking its toll among the smaller business men. It is safe to say that today failures are relatively light and that total liabilities have shown a declining tendency since the peak in January 1925. A summary of these figures follows:

LIABILITIES OF FAILURES
First Four Months

1922	$299,310,901
1923	197,070,249
1924	234,857,190
1925	299,511,341
1926	166,234,915

NUMBER OF FAILURES
First Four Months

1922	3,366
1923	6,860
1924	7,373
1925	7,413
1926	7,719

OLD VS NEW BUSINESS
"Business concerns may be divided into three groups: (1) those in a highly competitive and established line, such as the grocers; (2) those in experimental lines or new industries which have not reached the competitive stage; and (3) those in the half way group. The greatest number of failures today are in the first mentioned group; next comes the second group of new industries. The fewest failures are in the third group which includes those industries which have passed the experimental stage and yet are not over run and over crowded as are the highly competitive lines. Thus both cut-throat competition and undue risk are eliminated, making it possible for a man to succeed through his own honesty, industry and service rendered.
"In this connection, however, it is also interesting to note that the life of a concern becomes quite a factor when a study is made of failure statistics. Most failures are among the very young concerns which have not yet started or else among the old-fashioned firms which are trying to run on their reputation. These statistics show that after the original founder of a business gets a real start and passes successfully through the first few years, he has little to fear so long as he remains in control. Hence the 'middle aged' concerns are the best risks. Trouble to such comes when the father dies or sells out and the employees or children attempt to run the business or allow it to run itself.
THOSE MOST SUCCESSFUL
"A study of failure statistics further shows that those concerns which are content to begin at the bottom and grow slowly are the most permanent. History shows that it is very difficult almost impossible to buy good and low cost or else among the old-fashioned firms which are trying to run on their reputation. These statistics show that after the original founder of a business gets a real start and passes successfully through the first few years, he has little to fear so long as he remains in control. Hence the 'middle aged' concerns are the best risks. Trouble to such comes when the father dies or sells out and the employees or children attempt to run the business or allow it to run itself.

LEAD DEER ONCE USED ON LAWNS ARE POPULAR
New York (AP)—The leaden deer that adorned the lawns of prominent citizens in the seventies have emerged from their Victorian limbo as "antiques." A Madison Ave. shop has a display of them in its window.
demand was not up to expectations though later reports are much more favorable.
Coast fir mills booked orders for 10 per cent more than their cut, the gear being largely in the cargo movement to California, though there has been a pick up in shipments to the Atlantic seaboard. Rail business with the middle West is well maintained, and there is every prospect that during summer it will expand.
A fair volume of hardwoods is moving, a slowing of demand from auto mobile and furniture makers being offset by a gain in the call from the building trade. But production of southern woods has been in excess of new business and many mills are reducing their output so that orders in the last week have gained on it. The movement of northern hardwoods has shown considerable improvement.

LUMBER SHIPMENTS NOW EXCEED PRODUCTION
Softwood shipments 7 per cent above production during the ended May 22 indicate a gain in consumption as the weather improves for most buyers have continued to depend on good transportation and accepted shipments only as their stockpiled replenishment. Reports to the American Lumberman, Chicago, are that rural demand is showing the increase that had been hoped for, but statistics on building activities outside the larger cities are not available. The building for the time being is less active, but it is believed that labor difficulties are the principal hindrance to expansion in this, as in many large centers the wage scale for this trade have not been agreed upon. Most trade authorities say that the financial condition of the farm population has improved, that a better balance between city and country demand for the principal manufactured products is being reached, and that restoration of the balance will insure continued national prosperity. Current trade in lumber is beginning to reflect this change, and confirms the belief that the lumber industry will be one of the chief beneficiaries of any revival in farm business.
The principal softwood mills so far this year have both sold and shipped five per cent more than they produced. The excess of orders over production for the principal groups the southern pine and fir mills, was at the same percentage as for the softwood mills as a whole.
Southern pine orders during the week ended May 22 were, however, 1 per cent below production. Demand from the most of the South is increasing, and Florida prospects look brighter, but northern and eastern

MILHAUPT AUTO CO. SELLS NEW OIL PURIFIER

Apparatus Saves Wear on Machine, Oil Expense and Adds to Comfort

Every motorist knows that nothing is more important in the proper functioning of his car as clean and fresh oil circulating through the motor and parts of the machinery at all times. An oil purifying system which has proved its merit by various tests is the Pur-Olator distributed in Appleton by the Milhaupt Spring and Auto Co., 312-16 N. Appleton-St. The Pur-Olator keeps the oil clean and fresh at all times as the car runs and ends the frequent and bothersome draining of the crankcase.
Automotive engineers have always recognized that proper lubrication means life to any motor. They also know that dirty, contaminated oil shortens the life of the motor by rapidly grinding away the working parts. They have tried to correct this evil by various screening devices. But a screen fine enough to hold back any major portion of the dirt also holds back enough oil to prevent proper lubrication. This is the reason motorists are admonished to change the oil in the crankcase at frequent intervals.
But changing the oil is far from being the complete solution of the problem. The residue staying in the motor, even after draining, immediately mixes with the fresh oil and it is again thoroughly contaminated in less than 100 miles of driving.
Pur-Olator will do away with motor troubles caused by contaminated oil by continuously cleansing and purifying the oil in the crankcase. Every drop of contamination is removed from the oil and one insures himself against costly repairs due to faulty lubrication.
Oil does not wear out. It is foreign matter such as dust, dirt, bits of carbon, metal chips and other abrasives that change the oil from a good lubricant to a destructive grinding compound. Pur-Olator is standard factory equipment on all Chrysler, Buick, Cadillac, Oakland and other well known cars.
One of the most popular and useful automobile accessories sold at the Milhaupt Spring and Auto Co. are spring pads which when put over a spring will last several years and keep the spring thoroughly lubricated at all times. The leather pads or covers are filled with grease and when tightly strapped to the springs will allow no dust or grime to get in.

COAL DEALERS AGGRAVATED BY UNFAIR RIVALS

Survey by State Commission
Reveals Information on Local Fuel Situation

Too much competition especially competition of an illegitimate type from temporary and "fly-by-night" dealers was one of the principal complaints made at a hearing by coal dealers of the central Fox River valley before the Wisconsin Department of markets Friday in the city hall. The hearing was for the purpose of surveying conditions in the whole sale and retail coal business in this part of the state. Edward Nordman, Madison, commissioner of markets headed the committee. About 25 fuel dealers from Appleton, Kaukauna, Neenah, Menasha and Oshkosh, attended the hearing.

THREE TESTIFY
Three Appleton dealers, Roy Marston of Marston Bros. Coal Co., Stephen Balliet of the Balliet Supply Co., and John Hettinger of the Hettinger Lumber Co., offered testimony in the Friday morning session. Although there has been some complaint that the price of coal is higher in this part of the Fox River valley than in certain other cities in the state dealers showed by their testimony that they were operating their establishments on a very small margin of profit and further showed to the commission that they had considerable "unfair competition" to contend with.

Dealers said that some of the large industrial plants purchase coal in huge quantities at the mine price and sell it cheap to their employees, thus taking business from the legitimate coal merchants and forcing him to keep fuel prices high. Other unlicensed competition is that given by the so-called "snow birds" who buy up coal in carload lots and then sell from the cars.

Testimony revealed that labor wages in Appleton and in the central Fox River valley are somewhat higher than in certain other sections of the state where coal prices are lower. Mr. Nordman also emphasized that at the present time purchasing power does not equal production in many places and that this may have much to do with the discrepancy in coal prices in different sections of the state.

The committee held hearings in La Crosse and Green Bay before coming here. One of the men present with the commission was Senator Max Heck of Racine, chairman of the interim committee of the Wisconsin legislature.

Parting Sentiments of Classmates

"Will you write in my annual" was heard again and again in the corridors, rooms and on the grounds of Appleton high school for high school students have been busy getting their Clarion annuals filled up with sentiments, parting words and some advice from their fellow students and classmates. The Clarions were given out immediately after the class day exercises Wednesday afternoon.

This year's Clarion annual is largest ever published. It is bound in a stiff blue cover, and the Arabian knights motif is carried through the book in all title pages, picture panels, drawings and designs. The book is divided into eight sections. In the sponsor section are the names of Appleton business men and firms whose contributions made the book possible.

Dora Kelly was faculty adviser for the editorial staff, while Ruth Sackner was faculty counselor for the business staff. About 30 students made up the staff.

BABY'S BANK THIEF SENTENCED TO JAIL

Rex Clark, 25, Pompeli, Mich., was sentenced Friday afternoon to 30 days in Outagamie-co jail by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court. Clark pleaded guilty last week of theft of a woman's wrist watch and a child's savings-bank from the home of Edward DeBruin, town of Oneida. Judge Berg deferred sentence while he took the case under advisement. Clark disposed of the watch to a Green Bay pawn-broker for $2. It was recovered last week by Sheriff Peter Schwartz. Aaron Jesse, town of Oneida, was arrested with Clark, but was found not guilty when the latter exonerated him.

YOUNG FORGER SENT TO PRISON FOR YEAR'S TERM

Green Bay Youth Who Tried
Suicide in Jail Will Go to Waupun

Clarence Flournier, 20, Green Bay, will serve not less than one nor more than two years in state prison at Waupun for forging a check in Appleton on Thursday of last week. He was sentenced Friday afternoon in municipal court by Judge Theodore Berg.

Flournier was arrested at an Appleton hotel by Police Chief Prim last Friday, on complaint of W. H. Dean to whom he offered a check for $25 in payment for rent of an automobile and damage done to the car. The check, drawn on the Farmers National bank, of Green Bay, was signed by Flourner who used the name of Clifford Barclay, underneath that of the Barclay Oil Co., which Flourner printed by means of a rubber stamp. When arrested, Flourner gave his name as Clarence Smith.

Flournier pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in municipal court Tuesday, but Judge Berg deferred sentence while he took the case under advisement.

Last Saturday evening Flourner attempted to commit suicide in the city jail by swallowing ground glass, tin foil from a package of tobacco, a nickel and a penny. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where prompt measures were taken to save his life. Flourner declared that he preferred to die rather than go to prison, as he had already served sentences on the same charges at the Waukesha School for boys and at the Green Bay Reformatory. He also admitted that he is wanted for forgery at Green Bay, DePere and Oshkosh.

HUSBAND DENIES HE DESERTED HIS FAMILY

Peter JaDou, Kaukauna, arrested on complaint of Mrs. Marguerite Ja Dou, his wife, for failing to support her and their five children, pleaded not guilty to the charge Friday afternoon in municipal court. Judge Theodore Berg set June 10 as the date for JaDou's hearing.

OPEN INFIRMARY AT COLLEGE WHEN NEW TERM STARTS

College Authorities Engage
Physician and Will Hire
Resident Nurse

Establishment of a complete infirmary with a resident, graduate nurse and an attending physician for Lawrence college students has been announced by President Henry M. Wriston.

Dr. R. V. Landis, Appleton physician and surgeon, it was announced at the same time, has been selected college physician. He will make daily calls at the dormitories and infirmary, in addition to answering emergency calls. He also will make examination of candidates for Lawrence athletic teams.

The selection of a college physician,
Dr. Wriston said, however, does not prevent students from having a physician other than Dr. Landis.

At the same time, despite the increased facilities provided, it was announced that the infirmary fee charged all coeds at Lawrence had been reduced for next year.

The nurse to be in charge of the infirmary has not yet been named.
Miss Taylor, who has been college nurse the past school year, will not return next term.

The infirmary probably will be established in Ormsby annex, although this has not been definitely decided.

ERNEST LYNN, author of THE YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN MILBURN, partner in the advertising agency of GEA-HAM AND MILBURN, hails the birth of a baby girl as the turning point in his and his wife, FAY'S, marriage.

While Fay is in the hospital, John is invited to a swimming party by PAT FORBES. There he meets and is attracted to NELL ORME, who, Pat hints, is having trouble with her husband.

Pat, who has a wife and three children, leads John to think that he is tired of his own marriage.

Fay and John spend weeks looking for a house to buy, but only one appeals to them and that is priced $3000 higher than Fay thinks they can afford.

NATHANIEL GRAHAM, John's partner, sees a chance of landing an important advertising contract with the MILTOWN TOOL CO., and heads John and their artist, BEBIGGS, work furiously for weeks, preparing a campaign. When it is completed, Graham departs with it for Miltown and Briggs and John celebrate by getting drunk.

PAT, DAVIDSON, lawyer, amateur actor and libertine, calls at John's office to try to persuade him to attend a will party with him, but John refuses. Late that day a telegram comes for John, which causes him excitedly to jump for the phone and call Fay.

OW GO ON WITH THE STORY
(The names and situations in this story are fictitious)

"I bet I know what it is," Fay's husband said over the phone.

"What?" asked John.
"Nat Graham got the contract," he said.
"He sure did!" exclaimed John. "That's great! Boy, oh boy! I'm mung right home. Get your things and we'll go out."
"What are we going?"
"Never mind. Wait till I get home."

He hung up the receiver and rushed to Briggs and the Knickerbocker. "I guess that contract ought to call for some sort of celebration," he grabbed his hat and was gone.

"Well, where are we going?" Fay asked as he mounted the steps.
"You'll see. Pile in the flivver," he helped her into the coupe.
Twenty minutes later they stopped before the little house that had captured their fancies.
"Extra!" said John, "we're going rough that house from cellar to roof. We get through you're going to decide once and for all whether you still would like to buy. And if you do we're going to it. There'll be no further argument about not being able to afford. The Miltown contract settles that."

that. Come on, I'm going next door and get the key."

Fay smilingly followed him, and kept appraisal was in her eyes as she inspected the kitchen, with its mammoth porcelain sink and its vast cupboard and its breakfast nook and its disappearing ironing board.

"I'm satisfied with the kitchen," she proclaimed.
The dining room was small, intentionally so in order that the living room might be large, and this feature also pleased her. "Dining rooms are going out of fashion, anyway. We'll eat just one meal a day there, and the other two in the breakfast nook."

The living room ran the full width of the house. Fay approvingly inspected the fireplace, the polished floor, the many windows and the numerous electrical connections along the baseboard. There were such connections all over the house—in the bedrooms in the hall, the bath, even in the screened-in side porch.

The bath had a square set-in tub and shone mightily of nickel. There were three bedrooms, a master bedroom over the living room, and two smaller ones. In addition, there was a sewing room. "All the bedrooms are light," said Fay. "John, I think I'm crazy about it. I know I am. I wouldn't be happy in any other house, now that I've seen this."

"Then we'll buy it," he declared. "Come on, let's look at the cellar." Coming up the cellar steps he said, "And there's a peach of a back yard. Be just fine for Judith. First thing I'll do when she's able to get out and play is buy her a big sand box. Now then, come on and let's look up the agent."

The agent had spread before them a formidable looking pile of papers. He was talking of mortgages and principal and interest, but all John gathered was that a down payment of $3000 would be required and minimum monthly payments of $100.

"Well, I guess we can do that all right," he said, settling back in his chair. "Wait till tomorrow and I'll have a check."

But Fay asked the agent question after question—about taxes and water rent and the rate of interest—and John sat back and admired her for her business ability.

"Well, I guess you made that agent sit up and take notice," he complimented her when they left. "I guess he realizes he isn't putting anything over on you."
"Oh, John," she said. "I'm thrilled to death. But do you really think we can afford it?"

"Afford it? Of course we can. Doggone it, I'm going to be making real money pretty soon. This house is $13,000—just $3000 more than we expected to pay for one—but that Miltown business makes up the difference right away. We can scrape up the down payment without having to touch Judith's $500."

But that would leave us anything for furniture. We'll have to buy a lot of new furniture, John."

"That's all right. Our credit is good—and besides, I guess I can get an advance from the business.

What's the use of being in business for yourself if you can't draw out a little on your account?"

"Nat Graham might not like it."

"He'll have to like it. I'm not a salaried employee. I'm a full-fledged partner. Pretty soon we can be paying a lot more than a hundred a month, too."

"We won't want to do that, John. If we get ahead we'll want to save and put it down on the house in a lump."

"Oh, all right. Anyway that suits you."

"We'll let the housekeeper go."

"Sure you're feeling all right—feeling strong enough?" He looked at her keenly.

"I'm quite sure," she answered. "We've kept her now longer than I had intended."

A week later, after an orgy of furniture buying by Fay and a dismaying time with moving men and department store decorators who supervised the window drapes and curtains, they were installed in the new house in Bellaire-st.

Fay moved about the house with a happy light in her eyes and John tramped through the halls with loud stampings of his feet—when Judith was not asleep—explaining when Fay reproved him, "I'm so darned glad to get out of an apartment where you can't make any noise."

"Well, don't act like an Indian," she reminded him.
"And gladder yet," he went on, "to get away from the busybodies like Mrs. Exley."
"Well, there's usually at least one in every neighborhood," she laughed. Judith had been installed in a room of her own that Fay had had fitted up like a nursery. John spent happy hours here, talking with her as she lay in her crib and letting her play with his finger.

One evening three days after they had moved in the house the doorbell rang and Fay heard John who had gone to answer it, exclaim loudly, "Well, well! Doctor Menefee himself—and Margaret! How are you?" Step right in and take a look at the joint."

Dr. Menefee, a tall, black-haired man of about John's age, followed his fiancée in.

"Here's our best man," John announced to Fay and Margaret. Wayne tall and slender and brown-eyed was lost in rapture at the Milburns' living room.

"How perfectly adorable!" she exclaimed, and John and Fay escorted them through the house.

"It's a peach," said Dick Menefee. "How would you like one like it, Margaret?"

Margaret blushed and John loudly demanded, "Yes, when in thunder are you folks going to get married?"

"Keep still, John," Fay reproved him and Dick Menefee said, "Sooner the better for me. I think I'm past the real rough stage of the medical game. I'm building up a practice now and seeing daylight."

"Sorry you don't go in for obstetrics, or you could have collected a nice bill from us when Judith was born," said John.

"By the way," asked Menefee, "how did you like Dr. Baker?"

recommended him, pretty highly to you. I hope he was satisfactory."

"He was O. K., Dick, O. K. Come on, let's shoot some budget."

John went for a table. While they were cutting the cards, Margaret said, "Dick and I are thinking of getting married real soon."

"Oh, are you?" When asked Fay, "Well, well! I'll you, won't we, Dick?"

Sure will, agreed Dr. Menefee. "Well, don't forget me for best man, Dick," said John. "Remember, I gave the job to you at my wedding."

"The honor's yours," laughed Dick. "I didn't think people went around seeking the job. I had a bad case of stage fright in my only attempt."

"I had a heart announced John who had dealt. He was playing opposite Dick Menefee, it being to their liking to play against the women."

"Did you hear about John's fun landing a wonderful new contract?" asked Fay, who sat at John's left.

"Come on, dear, bid," he told her. "Let's not talk shop. I've got a good hand."

"No, let's hear about it," said Margaret, ignoring John.

John put in, "Oh, we landed the advertising business of the Miltown tool people. Biggest thing we've got so far, and it means a nice little piece of change. Come on, I've—bid, he commanded after Dick and Margaret had offered their congratulations.

"I bid a diamond," she said. "Isn't that like a woman?" John asked disgustedly. "I already bid a heart, Fay. You'll have to bid two diamonds."

"Two diamonds—and don't be so crabby." "Atta girl," Fay murmured. Dick Menefee approvingly. "Speak up for your rights. Two spades."

John finally won the contract for three hearts and was set one trick and had to listen to Fay while she explained how he could have made it.

had he "used his head and finessed his queen."

"Well, what's the difference," said John. "We're not playing for money."

When Menefee and Margaret left, Fay said to John, "I wish you wouldn't flare up at me like that for forgetting your bid."

"I didn't flare up at you. I just got impatient to have somebody talk about something else when I'm playing cards."

Fay was silent. She was gazing absent-mindedly at the lamp near her. Finally she spoke.

"John," she said, "I've been thinking. I'll tell you what we ought to do."

The New-Day JEWETT SIX does give you more for your money

THIS advertisement is written for those solid citizens who are going to spend around a thousand dollars for a motor car—and who want the greatest possible value.

Vision
No motor car ever built, at any price, provides wider or freer vision than the New-Day Jewett. Slender pillars of sturdy steel, replacing wider yet weaker wood, and a wide sweep of glass—eliminate the deadly "blind spot."

Safety
No other car at Jewett's price is equipped with Paige Hydraulic 4-Wheel brakes. The slightest pressure brings the car to cushioned rest almost immediately. Brakes are always perfectly equalized.

Ease of Handling
Ball bearings are generously used throughout the steering mechanism. The steering wheel is large, and convenient. The gear shift lever is in easy reach.

Engine
The highly perfected and wonderfully simplified engine develops ample power for your every need, more speed than you'll ever require. Oil forced under high pressure prevents bearing wear and insures smoothness and long life. Silent chain timing is used.

Accessibility
Extreme accessibility is seen not only on the engine, but throughout the chassis. Compare and see how much more quickly and easily you can remove the cylinder head to clean carbon; see how readily you can get at tappets, timing, electrical units, differential gears, and steering gears for adjustment and inspection.

Sturdiness
The frame is 5½ inches deep where most cars of this class are 4½ or 5. Springs are from 1 to 4 inches longer. Clutch, transmission, axles and drive shafts are larger than commonly used—always oversize.

Roominess
There is more interior room than in many cars of much longer wheelbase. The leg room in front measures 40 inches; in the rear, 48 inches. The headroom is the same as in the more expensive cars.

Features and Accessories
The pedal pads are adjustable; the running boards are all steel; there is a cowl ventilator; dome light, door pockets. The car is upholstered in beautiful silky, long wearing materials—finished in lacquer; rubbed, waxed and polished. There are rotary window lifts; coincidental theft-proof lock; larger battery.

Try Them—Before You Buy Them
Specification for specification—feature for feature—point for point—this New-Day car will convince the most careful buyer of its greater value. A demonstration will cost you nothing!

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN
PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY
CARTON

Dear Syd:

I am sure you cannot conceive what a shock your letter gave me. You probably have been thinking about it for a long time and have got used to it but it came to me like lightning out of a clear sky. It was as though you had dropped dead and I had been telegraphed to come and make arrangements for your burial.

Don't think this is funny, Syd. It's absolute, straightaway truth. I could almost lose Leslie out of my life as easily as I shall part with you, and what makes the parting doubly hard is that I'm not going to see you again before you go. I would have gone to you immediately on the receipt of your letter but of course you know the doctors have been keeping me in bed with my leg out straight before me, and now I cannot even go to New York to see you and it's all on account of that damn mumps picture business.

The whole thing has become a regular nightmare to me. I wish I had never given my consent to let them use any part of the mill. As it is, I'll have to stick around and it looks now as though we could not pull off the thing for at least three weeks. The doctor says I will not be able to get down there before that and there is one thing I am determined on and that is that I will not allow anything to be done on the matter unless I am on the ground. I would never forgive myself if there should be a real accident and I was absent. I would always feel that I might have prevented it.

I expect you have already seen by what I have written that I am not myself, old chap, or I would not be talking of accidents in this silly way but of your going away and my enforced confinement to the house. But I can't talk very much about your leaving, Syd. I feel too strongly on the subject.

Leslie came home three days ago and, Syd, she is lovelier than ever. Every time I look at her I ask myself, "Who are you, John Prescott, that a woman like Leslie could bring you wealth, success in business, a love that forgives all things and wonderful children to carry on your name."

"What are you, John Prescott, that make you worthy of such things as your wife has scattered all about you?" And worst of it all is that in spite of all this, all that I have, Syd, and no man on earth has more, I am bored with life. To me, at the present moment, nothing would seem so splendid, as to throw it all over and start with you to the wilds of Africa.

Adventures Of The Twins

A TOTEM-POLE CONVERSATION

"Oh, my poor, poor shadow!" cried the little Whiffet. "It didn't get lost at all! It was stolen. And now it has to work for old Snoopy. It will be all worn out, my poor shadow will!"

"Don't cry," said Nancy. "Shadows can stand a good bit. But come along, we'd better be moving."

Pretty soon they came to a Totem Pole.

The Totem Pole had six faces and when the three travelers came along all the faces opened their mouths and said, "How do you do?" at once.

The Twins and the Whiffet were too surprised to answer for a minute, but finally Nancy got out, "We're pretty well, thank you." And dropped a curtsy.

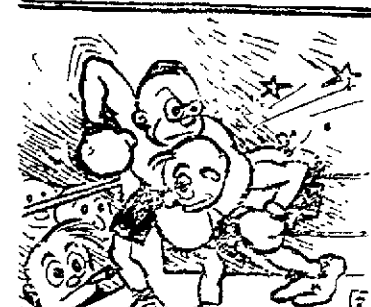

"That's fine," said the first face on the Totem Pole. "And now what can we do for you?"

"I lost my shadow and Mister Snoopy stole it," said the Whiffet. "Do you know where he is?"

"I'll ask my next neighbor," said

The final battles of the first round of play of the Fox River Valley loop are scheduled for Sunday when Fondy du Lac invades Appleton, Oshkosh travels to Neenah, and Kimberly visits Green Bay. When these games are played every loop team will have played every other and the second round will start. Every one of Sunday's tilts is booked for a hot battle. Kimberly, with three strong additions to its already neat lineup, is in a fine position to drop the Haymen from the league attic while the Bays must win to hold any kind of a lead. This game should be the feature of the weekend.

Oshkosh hits a fighting Neenah team which is all set for its first win. Before confronting at Green Bay Sunday it held the strong Green Sox to a 3-2 score for six frames and

The player of the Appleton ball club who leads the team in batting at the end of the season will become the proud possessor of a gold, appropriately engraved watch. The Kamps jewelry store offers the prize to the slugger. Beside slugging with the best he must have at least a good fielding average, according to terms of the offer.

Booked good for a win. At Appleton, Fondy's strong crew, considered by many the best in the loop, is all set for an easy win. Fondy lost only to the undefeated Bays when Strong was knocked off the mound. Lou, his successor, held in reserve Sunday, held the Bays easily the rest of the way. Vorhees, reserve hurler, will open Appleton. He beat Kimberly a couple weeks ago but Fondy bats plus plenty of K-C errors gave him the win. The Papermaker sluggers got to his offerings in the final frames and battered for plenty of clean hits scoring a number of runs, enough to win an ordinary ball game, but the early lead was too great.

The entire Appleton team, idle with a postponed game, watched the tilt and the members confidently expect to be able to hit hater's fast ball hard. Leu probably will see action before the game is over though the Fondy fielders have seen many a weakening hurler through a game by their sensational work in the pinches.

Three new men will appear in Appleton suits but whether any of them will see action is not known. Boyle may alternate with Van Wyck in the outfield and Sternagel and Kraft in the left-hander, one down as reserve hurler. The outer garden will be bolstered all around with two men for each job. Bent, Lawrence college student, who has played the ball his last two starts and Manager Baetz are ready for right field while H. Tarnow, slugging hurler, who is a valuable fielder because of his stockwork, and the veteran Frieb are all set for the center field job. Any other combination or switch can be made with these six men to work from.

Crowe, victim of a tough luck loss to the Bay crew and a 3-3 tie at Kimberly will hurl with Ashman as his

Team Which Wrecked Giant Hopes Last Year Cuts Red-leg Lead to Two Games

Chicago. (AP)—Boston's uprising Braves have come back from a long confinement in the National league depths to make good their reputation as a blight to senior circuit pennant hopes.

Dealing another body blow to the leading Cincinnati Reds Friday Ban-croft's revolting warriors reduced the lead of the midwestern team to the thin margin of two games, as Pittsburgh maintained its drive toward the top by once more trouncing the Cubs, 5 to 1.

Boston bats, which dealt destruction to New York championship aspirations last season, extended their assault on pitching to the fourth consecutive game. Fifteen hits caromed from their bludgeons into the wide open spaces of Braves field. High contributing a homer, double and a single, and the Taylors, J. and E., adding a cluster of doubles and and triples to seal the victory at 8 to 5.

A seventh consecutive slab triumph for Leo Meadows was posted in Pittsburgh clean cut victory over Chicago. Errorless ball in the field and timely hitting included a four-lagger by Wright figured in the decision.

Indications that Dazzy Vance, premier National league twirler has finally "arrived" after a disappointing start, was seen in the big right hander's impressive exhibition Friday against the Giants. After being driven from the mound in his previous appearances, Vance struck out ten New York batsmen, and allowed only four hits. Brooklyn's 10-1 triumph pushed the club back into the first division.

Cleveland, making only half as many hits as the Detroit Tigers, bunched their five blows opportunely to nose out Cobb's team, 4-3, while Zachary of the Browns bested Edwards of the White Sox in a brilliant slug duel to win by the shutout score of 3 to 0.

OLD DODGER HURLS GOOD BALL

It seems the Brooklyn Dodgers missed a guess when they let Pitcher "Jumbo Jim" Elliott go to the Seattle Indians of the Pacific Coast League. Elliott got away to a sensational start, winning his first nine games. He's one of the biggest hurlers in baseball, standing "6-4" and weighing 242. Perhaps the Dodgers would like to have him on their payroll now.

Mack Says "Kid" Gleason Made Star Of Lefty Grove

BY BILL EVANS
"Bill Gleason did it!" That is what Connie Mack says when the sensational pitching of Southpaw "Lefty" Grove comes in for discussion.

Connie invariably refers to "Kid" Gleason as Bill, for he is striving for propriety in all things and "Kid" is a "trifle slangy," says Connie. "Gleason gave Grove the confidence he needed, made several slight changes in his style and now he appears all set for a big year."

"I have had under my management two of the greatest left-handers in the history of the game. 'Rube' Waddell and Eddie Plank; looks as if I have a third one in Grove."

So if Gleason fails to do another worthwhile thing for the rest of the year, he has already earned his salary in the transformation of Grove. Incidentally this stuff that has been printed about there being a rift between Mack and Gleason is the purest bunk. Connie has the greatest respect in the world for Gleason's judgment and the players are strong for him. They couldn't be otherwise, because he is one of the finest characters in the game.

MAKE IDEAL COMBINE
On the bench Mack supplies the direction of play while Gleason imparts the enthusiasm and encouragement. They make an ideal combination. When I talked with Gleason about Grove, he "pooh-phooed" the idea that he was in any way responsible for the southpaw's great work of this spring.

One bad inning, the fifth frame, in which smashing hits by members of the winning crew were added to costly errors and overthrows by the losers, enabled the Post-Crescent team to hold its place on the top of the Y. M. C. A. Twilight league and shove the Y boys farther into the cellar. The P-C men won the tilt, which was played Friday afternoon at Jones park, by a score of 7-6, and five of the runs came over in the fatal fifth.

Cartier and Bleier engaged in a hurler's duel with the P-C moundsman having a trifle better support. The deciding factor of the game, the winners scored a run in each of the first two frames, but the Triangles came back with their biggest rally for three in the fourth and another in the fifth for a 4-2 score. Here the winners opened up and when the dust had settled had a 7-4 lead. The P-C men were unable to add to their lead, however, being held scoreless in the final three frames while the losers scored once in the seventh and again in the ninth to come within a run of a tie.

They started a hard rally in the final frame and the final batter died with the tying run on third base and every prospect of an overtime game. Starnard scored twice for the P-C men with LaRose, Merkle, Schroeder, Bender and Cartier adding one apiece. Lutz scored twice for the losers and Schweger, Zussman, Bleier and Ashman added him. Merkle, Eschert, Starnard and Hartzel starred in the field for the P-C men cutting down plenty of runs. Schweger, behind the pan, Ashman, Diedrick and Hillman looked good in the losers' fielding.

ORTEZ MAY MEET KID KAPLAN FOR FEATHER CROWN

Boy Who Won Four Straight Bouts at Oshkosh Backed Against Champ by Mexican

Oshkosh.—Joe Ortiz, the Mexican whirlwind, who achieved his fourth successive knockout in as many matches in Oshkosh the other night, when he floored Pete Fauly in the fourth round, is now believed to be on his way to a world championship.

Ortiz may meet K. O. Kid Kaplan, acclaimed featherweight champion of the world, a match which has been attempted upon three previous occasions but failed to materialize for one reason or another. Now, it is announced by his manager, Vince Mohr, a bonafide offer has been received which looks like "the real goods."

Fred Patek, a wealthy lumberman and sporting man of Juarez, Mexico, is the man who will act as the "angel." Mr. Patek has agreed to offer Kaplan $20,000 if the match is arranged. He has offered to give Ortiz 17 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts.

Mr. Patek, who is prominent in horse-racing, is taking a deep interest in securing the match and July 4 is the day that has been suggested for the event.

It is believed the record of Ortiz in this city winning four successive knockouts in one place is one which has not been paralleled, and the way he put away Fauly indicates that he will be a dangerous proposition, and the crown on Kaplan's head will be placed in dire jeopardy, if he goes through with the contract to meet the Mexican.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR GOLFING STARS

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH GOLFERS MAGAZINE, CHICAGO.

FRANCIS QUIMET—JUDGING DISTANCES
Nothing is more deceptive than distance. In golf the player is constantly moving about and trying various links, so he should be a good judge. Tournament players just have to be, else they crack at odd moments for no other reason than failure to know how far it is to the green.

Too many golfers depend on the other fellow. That is the wrong theory. There is more to the game than copying the play of an opponent, especially if he is better than you. No two champions use the same weapons. They get home by different routes. Each is a star because he knows his limitations with his clubs.

That is usually the way with the average golfer. He thinks he knows all about it.

Golf holes are deceptive as to length, some more than others. No one can rely on guesswork as to distance.

There is one sure plan to follow in judging the length of any hole—follow the score card. On it is the distance in yards. By doing that you then know what you have to do. And you can figure it out with mathematical precision if you have made it a point to remember the distances of various holes you know well.

Supt. Meating Awards Prizes at Annual County Commencement

More than 200 diplomas were presented to grammar school graduates of Outagamie county rural schools at the annual county commencement at Appleton last Saturday.

The graduates, their parents, schoolmates and friends crowded the auditorium. Song contests preceded the address and presentation of diplomas.

Pioneer school, district No. 1, town of Osborn, was presented the Outagamie county trophy cup as winner of the fourth annual county field day at Pierce park last Saturday, by Superintendent Meating, who also awarded the individual trophy cup to Gordon Powell of the same school. Both cups were given by the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Contests in spelling, arithmetic and penmanship were held in the circuit court room at the courthouse. Entries were restricted to winners of town contests. About fifteen pupils completed.

FACTORY STOCK TAKES TUMBLE

Industrial Groups Drop from One to Five Points—Rails Remain Steady

New York (AP)—Heavy realizing sales combined with sporadic buying turned the course of prices reactionary in Saturdays brief session of the market after an early period of irregularity, net declines of 1 to nearly 5 points were spread over the industrial group, but the rails displayed a relatively firm undertone in quiet trading.

Delaware and Hudson showed an initial gain of 1 1/2 and Pathe A opened nearly a point higher, but most of the other opening changes were fractional.

Heaviness cropped out in some of the oils, motors and local fractions. With little in the overnight news to influence the price movement in either direction early trading was rather listless in character, operations on the long side derived some encouragement from the resistance to further price concessions in commodities reported by the weekly mercantile reviews, and from the fact that brokers' loans reported by the stock exchange were nearly $770,000 below the February peak at the end of May. Among the few issues to advance a point or so in the first half hour were International Telephone, American Lumber, American Safety Razor and Midland Steel Products preferred. Electric Refrigeration advanced fractionally to the highest price since its admission to trading on the "big board."

"Nickel Plate" common featured the rails by quickly moving up 2 1/2 points. Foreign exchanges opened relatively firm. Demand standing ruled around 4 3/4% and French and Belgian francs were quoted slightly higher around 3 3/4% and 3 1/4% cents respectively. Other changes were largely nominal. The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 600,000 shares.

BOOK TEACHING PASSE, WRISTON TELLS TRUSTEES

War Made Change in Attitude of Teachers, Lawrence Head Says

A marked change, vitally important to college and university policy, has come over the teaching profession as one of the results of the World war, President Henry M. Wriston of Lawrence college told members of the college board of trustees Friday.

"Before the war," he said, "teaching was largely a matter of books. Today, teaching by the book is doomed. Teaching henceforth must be more original in form and method. Original work requires time for reading, thought, reflection, and organization into expository form.

"The war took professors in great numbers. The academic detachment in which they lived was utterly destroyed for these men for all time. They were brought definitely into competition with men who had been in the business world. They competed successfully, and it removed a certain sense of inferiority under which the teaching profession had suffered. These men learned new methods. They found out, for example, that it was possible to dictate their letters, their papers, their addresses. They came back to academic duties irritated with the necessity for doing things slowly and by hand which they had learned to do more rapidly with clerical, mechanical, and technical assistance. They chafed at the old routine ways of doing things, and they sought to bring to the college world those facilities to which men in other branches of activity have long been accustomed.

"More than this, they enriched their experience through contact with the practical world, and they were no longer content to teach in the old way, or to interpret the facts of their subjects in the old way. There was aroused in these men a determination to reinterpret history and science and even literature in terms of their relationship to life. They created in faculties a new spirit. They sought to achieve an infinitely more complicated task than they had heretofore. They were no longer content to teach by the book. They were eager to search out new applications and fresh implications.

"The war, moreover, emphasized the pace at which learning is moving. Industrialists understand how rapidly the processes of industry are changing. But the knowledge which the teachers are called upon to give to the youth of today is changing even more rapidly and more fundamentally.

"The call of teaching is today for a man who is honest in his faith and 'who is constantly alert.' President Wriston continued, 'He must forever be reorienting himself in a way that was not required of the teacher of twenty-five years ago. The teacher of today, in the midst of an avalanche of new information—correct, incorrect, and partly correct—must have more time to weigh and sift and sort. He must have a creative intellect.'

The remarks were introductory to Mr. Wriston's report on changes and additions which are being made to strengthen his faculty for next year. A study of faculty conditions at Lawrence has been completed this year for development of a policy expressed in Dr. Wriston's inaugural address last fall. "To secure for Lawrence a faculty large enough and experienced enough to give to each student the individual attention which is the ideal of the small, independent college."

GOVERNMENT AT GREEN BAY COST $988,396

Madison—(AP)—City government cost Green Bay $988,396 of $28.62 per capita, for the last fiscal year ending Dec. 31, the federal department of commerce says in a statement issued at Washington.

This was a decrease in the per capita cost from 1924, when it was $28.11 and an increase from 1911, when it was $13.41.

The money was spent for the maintenance and operation of the general departments of the city. The total payments last year for expenses of general departments and public service enterprises, interest on debt and outlays for permanent improvements were $1,505,657.

The total revenue receipts last year were $1,798,238, or $49.16 per capita. The excess over payments is reflected in increased cash balances and reduction of debt.

A New-Type Six

—built to meet present-day performance standards

Here is a remarkable, new type of motor car, different in performance, comfort, and ease of driving from anything you have ever known before.

It is a completely new departure in automobile engineering... designed to meet present-day performance standards.

Simply in fairness to yourself you should study the modern standards of design, before buying any car today.

Today's modern car is designed for road speeds of from 40 to 55 miles per hour.

That's why you can run the new-type Overland Six at high speed hour after hour without excessive wear and tear on the motor. And why ordinary, bulky, old-fashioned cars quickly go to ruin when pressed above 45.

Today's modern car has a full pressure-feed oiling system.

That's why the Overland Six will run mile after mile at top speed, without the slightest friction. Each part operates smoothly in a bath of oil.

Modern engineering has made possible a lower gravity center. The Overland Six fairly hugs the ground. Without side-sway, slipping or wandering... it is always under perfect safety control.

The Overland Six is a completely engineered harmonious integral unit... designed to meet the new American performance standards. In fairness to yourself see this automobile.
